Non-motorized travel is much more common in some urban areas than others. Many communities have significant latent demand for non-motorized travel, that is, people would walk and bicycle more frequently if they had suitable facilities and resources (Komanoff and Roelofs, 1993; Pucher, Komanoff, and Schimek, 1999).

A pedestrian is a person travelling on foot, whether walking or running. In some communities, those travelling using tiny wheels such as roller skates, skateboards, and scooters, as well as wheelchair users are also included as pedestrians. In modern times, the term usually refers to someone walking on a road or pavement, but this was not the case historically.
